

The Second Session of What Promises to Be a Series.

Briso Again Urges the Caucus to Protect Home Industry.

The Ohio Senator is Making a Special Fight for a Tariff Bill and from Ohio, and was Very Bitter in Sum of his Remarks.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The democratic caucus Tuesday held the second of what promises to be a series of daily sessions, in order for an indefinite period, in other words, for as long as the democratic senators have practically resolved themselves into committee of the whole upon the tariff bill, the entire control of the tariff bill to this democratic caucus. No one pretends to know how long this caucus will last or what conclusion it will reach. One of the prominent members of the democratic leaders of the senate says that, in his judgment, the caucus could not finish its task this week. He says that it is certain that the proceedings of the caucus is that they are very stormy, and that most of the democratic senators from the northern states have been in the caucus revolt against the Wilson bill. The leader of this revolt thus far has been Senator Brisson, of Ohio, who demands that if any concessions are made in the bill to capture the votes of the democratic senators from the southern states, notably from Louisiana, Alabama and the Virginia, the democratic senators of Ohio shall require equal concessions. Mr. Brisson is making a special fight for a duty on coal and iron ore. Tuesday he repeated with great vigor the assault which he made in caucus Monday upon the sectional character of the bill as it had been modified by the three senators from Arkansas, Missouri and Texas.

In the course of his remarks Mr. Brisson read copious extracts from a Washington dispatch pointing out the sectional character of the democratic subcommittee. It had been said by Senator Vest, in apology for some of the protective features of the bill by this partisan subcommittee that they had been forced to do so at the point of the bayonet. Mr. Vest referred to the duty on raw sugar, which had been offered to the Louisiana senators at a fraction over a cent a pound, while it was reported to be graded upon refined sugars above 16 cents, Dutch standard. If, said Mr. Brisson, the Louisiana senators had used sugar as a bait to attract votes from the northern democratic senators could not be assured for taking up the same weapon.

Mr. Brisson's speech was very scathing, and it was particularly apropos because of the only action taken by the caucus Tuesday morning, was to appoint a subcommittee to report upon the free list at the demand of the Mississippi senators.

The chaotic condition of the bill was inferred from a reply which Senator Voorhees made Tuesday to a request that he give out an official copy of the measure in its present condition. It was urged upon the chairman of the finance committee that such an authorized publication would set at rest many of the rumors and speculations which were being published every day about the free list and customs schedules, as well as internal revenue features, notably whiskey and manufactured tobacco. Mr. Voorhees admitted that such publication might be advisable, but he added, the bill was as unsettled in many of its important features as the caucus by the democratic subcommittee becomes a series of tentative proposals, many proposed duties being left blank for the tariff makers to fill up. He even the last printed copy of the bill of shreds and patches has been altered since it reached the caucus.

Head Going Home.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Editor W. T. Stead will leave for London on Friday, sailing from New York March 7. The editor said Tuesday that he was called home sooner than he expected by the fact that parliament convenes soon, and, as he believes Mr. Gladstone will resign the premiership, everything politically will be at stake and he will be here again next fall.

They Drove Into an Air Hole.

ODENBURG, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Thos. Lavier, of this city, Matthew Steiner, of Syracuse, and F. Barrett, of Montreal, started to drive across the St. Lawrence on the ice from Prescott to this city Tuesday morning. They drove into an air hole, and Steiner and Barrett were drowned. The third man, who was also drowned, was not named.

Electric Car Collision.

DAVENPORT, Ia., Feb. 28.—Two electric cars Tuesday became unmanageable and collided, resulting in full speed. Both cars were filled with passengers, and the following were more or less injured: Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Jenly, W. M. Taylor and his mother, and J. T. Robell.

Took Everything Working.

LEBANON, Ind., Feb. 28.—Caldwell's general merchandise store and post office at Pike's Crossing, six miles north of this city, was gutted by burglars, and everything of value was loaded in a wagon and carried away. The burglars entered in force, the safe open and took the stock of stamps and postal funds on hand.

Secretary Nelson Killed.

BERNARD, Conn., Feb. 28.—T. W. White was found shot dead at New Britain, J. Sterling Morton. The bill consisted of hanging Secretary Morton in effigy in the city park in this city.

Accident. A horse-drawn carriage in which a party of five persons were riding, was overturned on a hill near the residence of the driver, who was killed. The other four persons were injured.

Dr. A. H. Hutchins, inventor of the patent automatic lighting lamp, was in his laboratory, which is located in his private residence, experimenting with the burner, when he was attempting to improve. While experimenting with chemicals an explosion occurred, which resulted in the serious and injuring the doctor so seriously that he will not live till morning. His lungs were blown out, his left leg was blown off, and the right leg was broken. Both hands and arms badly mangled, face frightfully burned, lower jaw broken, and he was otherwise seriously injured.

His wife and three small children were in another part of the building at the time, and miraculously escaped serious injury. Hutchins was about 41 years old, a recent graduate of the Philadelphia medical college, and a famous practitioner.

FULL OF SMALLPOX. Hundred and sixty cases in Chicago's Past Week. CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—The health department is seriously troubled concerning the large number of smallpox cases. The smaller number of cases, it is said, will soon be impossible to admit any more treatment. Tuesday, 160 cases under treatment. There were 100 cases under treatment Tuesday, 160 cases under treatment. The health department has been placed in the corridors of the building, and the laundry has been converted into a ward. There is not room for the patients, and the necessity of building an additional, or quarantining patients in the city, is being considered. The health department, however, is doing during the 1898 epidemic, present in the city, and the city will probably be taken, as the city is too poor to do any building.

Indiana, Feb. 28.—A committee of the Indiana legislature, which will go to Chicago Wednesday for the purpose of making an official inquiry into the prevalence of smallpox in that city, and, if the committee is satisfied, it takes steps to prevent the disease from being brought into Indiana.

A Judge Bridges the Press. ST. PAUL, Feb. 28.—Judge John W. Willis, of the St. Paul district court, charged upon the newspapers of St. Paul Tuesday. The judge intimated that he would not hesitate to arrest for contempt any newspaper which reported anything except facts in criminal cases. He said in court Tuesday that he was not going to permit the press to create a prejudice against the party in judicial proceedings, civil or criminal, are absolutely unlawful. The judge said that articles calculated to sustain a case, or to prejudice another, has been repeatedly adjudged upon as contempt of court, and punished as such.

Three Men Frozen to Death. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 28.—Information was received from the Ohio river bottom, north of Jackson, Tenn., that three men had been frozen to death. The men were frozen to death in a wagon drawn by a pair of mules. The men were frozen to death in a wagon drawn by a pair of mules. The men were frozen to death in a wagon drawn by a pair of mules.

San Francisco Manuscript. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—An invitation to a number of noted Hesperian scholars has been examining a collection of rare manuscripts which form a part of the library of the late John S. Palfrey. The collection is the most valuable found in the collection by Dr. S. Palfrey. It was a copy of the Pentateuch, inscribed by the Patriarch Jacob, and was found in the twelfth century. It is the opinion of all the experts who have seen the manuscript that it is genuine.

Religious Inquiry.

NORRISVILLE, Ind., Feb. 28.—Mrs. Malinda Borton, who lives a few miles north of this city, has been the subject of the church. A few weeks ago Malinda claims she was bitten to fast twenty-one days for the remission of sin. Eighteen days later she was again bitten, and she has been in the same state since she has eaten anything. She is so weak and prostrated that she can scarcely walk, but she asserts that she will hold out until the expiration of the three weeks.

Died in a Fit of Clothes.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Feb. 28.—Deputy County Auditor R. H. Lowman was arrested Tuesday morning at New Haven for attempted burglary. He was found crouching under a lot of old clothes in Mrs. Mallory's residence.

Statements That the Premier is About to Resign.

The Position Offered to Lord Roseberry, but He Declines.

There Are Also Reports That His Honorable Majesty is About to Resign.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The Edinburgh Evening News said unqualifiedly Tuesday evening that Mr. Gladstone had resigned, and that his resignation would be accepted by the king. The news stated that the premiership was offered Lord Roseberry, but he declined it. The position was then offered to Earl Spencer, but he also declined it. The news stated that the premiership was offered to Lord Roseberry, but he declined it. The position was then offered to Earl Spencer, but he also declined it.

Though the condition of Mr. Gladstone's eyes is regarded as a sufficient reason for his wishing to lay down the office, it is not the only reason. The real reason for his resignation, if the present report that he has resigned is true. Owing to the great age, and the waning of his physical powers, he is unable to withstand the attacks of criticism hurled at him as he was a few years, or even a few months ago. Where then would they glance from him as from armor, they now pierce him. It is also true that he has recently been deeply affected by the loss of his political friends and allies on his course in regard to several party measures. The private secretary of the premier will not deny the reports of the fact that the earl of Roseberry, while on his way to visit the prince and princess of Wales at Sandringham, was handed a dispatch at Newmarket and immediately returned to the foreign office, while attracting no attention at the time, is now believed to have had direct bearing on the question of Mr. Gladstone's retirement. The excuse given at the time for Lord Roseberry's sudden return was that he was summoned back for a consultation, and that he was summoned back for a consultation, and that he was summoned back for a consultation.

The Central News states that the rumor of Mr. Gladstone's resignation is inevitable within a few weeks. Since Mr. Gladstone's resignation from the premiership, the earl of Roseberry has been forming in his eye has ripened fast, and Dr. Granger and other physicians whom he has consulted, with complete unanimity, advise that the treatment will necessarily involve seclusion in a darkened room for a long time, probably three or four months. The resignation of Mr. Gladstone is a matter of great importance to the country, and it is expected that the resignation will be accepted by the king.

Another Expedition Into the Frozen Zone Organized.

It Will Be Led by Walter Wellman, a Newspaper Man.

Prof. Owen H. Pritchard, United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, has been selected to lead the expedition.

New York, Feb. 28.—March 14 Walter Wellman, a well-known newspaper man, formerly of Cincinnati, will leave for the frozen zone. He will go as far north as he can, and further than anyone has yet gone, if he is permitted to do so by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey. The expedition will be led by Walter Wellman, a newspaper man.

Three Americans, besides Wellman, will be in the party, viz: Prof. Owen H. Pritchard, from the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Thomas H. Morgan, of Washington, D. C., a practitioner, and Charles D. Dodge, of the navy department, a capable photographer and artist. The party will seek the pole through the channel cut by the influence of the Gulf Stream in the Norwegian seas. They will follow the coast of Greenland, and will land at Tromsø in Norway, and then sail for Spitzbergen, where at last they will establish headquarters. Here they will be under the shadow of the eighteenth parallel. The journey will be a long one, and it will be a long one, and it will be a long one.
